Why call the Aging & Disability Resource Center?

We are the first place you can call or visit in order to receive unbiased information and assistance on issues that affect older adults and adults with developmental or physical disabilities. We can also provide advocacy for older adults and adults with disabilities.

What types of services can we help you find?

Our services may include information about long-term care options; publicly funded long-term care programs such as Family Care, Partnership, and IRIS (Include, Respect, I Self-Direct); as well as energy services, housing options, nutrition services, transportation services, Medicare, and Medicaid programs.

Our services are available free of charge and always confidential.

Who/what should I ask for when I call the ADRC?

Resource Specialists:

are available to help answer general questions or provide you with links or resources that may help with your specific need. They can also provide an assessment to determine your physical eligibility for long-term care programs.

Youth Transition Services:

offers information and assistance beginning at age 17.5 years old for youth with physical or developmental/intellectual disabilities transitioning into adult services. Information regarding benefits and services that may be available based on disability and functional abilities.

Disability Benefit Specialist:

works specifically with individuals age 18-59; especially those who are pursuing Social Security Disability or are in need of financial assistance to meet daily needs.

Elder Benefit Specialist:

works with individuals age 60 and over. Provides a 'benefits review' that helps to identify private and public benefits and programs you may be entitled to such as Social Security, FoodShare, Medicaid, also Medicare Advantage plans, Senior Care, prescription drug coverage, etc.

Legal Issues:

offers information regarding guardianship, power of attorney, client rights advocacy, etc

Caregiver Program Coordinator:

works with individuals who are caregivers through the National Family Caregiver Support Program and the Alzheimer's Family Caregiver Support Program. Services could include adult day care, respite care and home delivered meals. Also offers the Music & Memory, Share the Care, and S2S Caregiver Support programs.

Dementia Care Specialist:

is available to help you learn about Alzheimer's disease and related dementias, address your concerns, discuss strategies to reduce stress, and help you and your family develop a plan of caregiver supports. Offers the SPARK! Program, Memory Screens, and Dementia Education Classes.

Health and Wellness:

promotes safe, healthy lifestyles through self-management workshops such as Powerful Tools for Caregivers, Stepping On, and Living Well with Chronic Conditions offers residents of Dodge County age 60 or older a chance to enjoy a nutritious meal and other nutrition-related services, five days a week, at ten dining centers throughout the county.

Senior Dining Services:

Transportation Services:

provides rides to eligible individuals both within and outside of Dodge County. The top priorities are medical, nutritional, and work related activities.
